

Policing Domestic Violence: New Evidence for Practice

Date: 23 March 2017

Venue: College Court Conference Centre, University of Leicester

Schedule

Time
9.30am – 10.00am	Registration and refreshments
10.00am – 10.10am	Opening remarks: Lord William Bach (Leicestershire Police and Crime Commissioner)
10.10am – 11.00am	Dr Jesse Matheson (University of Leicester) Project 360: An intervention to address victim-police engagement in domestic violence cases
11.00am – 11.15am	Refreshments
11.15am – 12.00pm	Professor Heather Strang (Cambridge University) Project CARA: Update on randomized controlled trial testing the effectiveness of a workshop programme for low severity domestic abuse offenders
12.00pm – 1.00pm	Lunch
1.00pm – 1.30pm	Project 360: Responding to the need of repeat victims of domestic abuse in Leicestershire Jason Masters (Assistant Chief Constable, Leicestershire Police); Stephanie McBurney (Domestic Violence Coordinator, Leicester City Council); Tim Lindley (DI, Domestic Abuse Investigation Unit Leicestershire Police).
1.30pm – 2.45pm	Policy panel: Zoë Billingham (Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary); Sally Holmes (DCI, National Domestic Abuse Portfolio); Polly Neate (Chief Executive, Women's Aid).
2.45pm – 3.00pm	Refreshments
3.00pm – 3.15pm	Rachel Tuffin (Director Knowledge, Research and Education, College of Policing)
3.15pm – 4.25pm	Research Panel: Dr Iain Brennan (Hull University), Dr Heather Flowe (Loughborough University), Catherine Owens (College of Policing)
4.25pm – 4.30pm	Closing remarks: Professor Zoe Radnor (Dean, University of Leicester School of Business)